20. Under the act of 3d March, 1845, the route is to be let to the lowest bidder, tendering sufficient guaranties for faithful performance, without other reference to the mode of transportation than may be necessary to provide for the due celerity, certainty and seenerty of such transportation. And the new contractor is not required to purchase out, or take at a valuation the stock or vehicles

When the lowest bid proposes a mode of conveyance that is inadequate for the route in respect to the certainty, security, and externity of the mails, aside from any accommodation for travel, it will speech, at length, very shortly:
